

Hospital and Health System Preparedness Graduate Certificate

Penn State College of Medicine's 15-credit online graduate certificate can prepare you with the necessary knowledge and skills to protect the critical infrastructure of hospitals, medical facilities, and emergency management systems. Course topics include:

- ▶ coordinated disaster or terrorism response as it relates to public health
- ▶ impact of terrorist incidents on health care
- ▶ fundamentals of emergency preparedness exercises

The 15 credits you earn in this graduate certificate may be applied to the Public Health Preparedness Option in the Master's Degree in Homeland Security, if you apply and are granted admission to the master's program.

This publication is available in alternative media on request. Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status. Produced by Outreach and Online Education Marketing U.Ed.OUT 16-0208/16-WC-0399/gam/sss Copyright © 2016 The Pennsylvania State University

Apply online: worldcampus.psu.edu/php