Associate Degree in Dietetic Food Systems Management

School Food Service Emphasis
For persons interested in managing a school food service or child nutrition program.

To broaden your opportunities and excel in your career, you need a top-quality education. By choosing the World Campus’s School Food Service program, you can:

- prepare for SNA certification and the SFNS credentialing exam
- earn college credits and complete an associate degree
- broaden your potential job opportunities, take on greater responsibilities, and advance your career

Penn State’s career-focused distance education program with a School Food Service emphasis allows you to create your own, customized educational plan—whether you are interested in taking a single course, earning a certificate, or completing your associate degree in dietetic food systems management.

Going back to school or enrolling for the first time can be scary. Because the School Food Service program offers a “step-up” curriculum, you can decide whether the program is right for you before making a commitment.

Build self-confidence and clarify your goals through student-focused distance learning and with the guidance of a caring faculty adviser. Complete as many courses or steps as you need to meet your goals. Each step builds on the knowledge you gain from completing the previous step.

*To complete the degree program, you must be employed at least part-time in a school food service operation or a child nutrition program. If you are not currently employed, please contact us by e-mail (pswd@psu.edu) or phone (800-252-3592 ext. 5) to discuss your options.

Why Choose Penn State World Campus?

Convenience
- Study and learn at your own pace.
- Complete courses without leaving home and job responsibilities.

Excellence
- Our dedicated faculty have expertise in the field and many years of experience in teaching and advising distance learners.
- Our 110-year history as a distance education pioneer means that Penn State really knows how to help you get where you want to go!
Associate Degree in Dietetic Food Systems Management
School Food Service Emphasis

• Earn credits for certification by the School Nutrition Association (SNA).
• Prepare for the school food service and nutrition specialist (SFNS) credentialing exam.
• Demonstrate initiative to your current or a future employer.
• Earn credit toward your associate degree from Penn State.

School Food Service Emphasis: Step-up Program Outline

Step 1 (2 credits) Start with a single course.
D S M 105 Introduction to School Food Service

Step 2 (9 more credits) Complete course work to qualify for SNA Level 3 certification.*
D S M 101 Food Safety and Sanitation
NUTR 151 Nutrition Component of the Food Service System
D S M 205 Human Resource Management in Food Service Operations

Step 3 (13 more credits) Earn a School Food Service Management Certificate from Penn State.
D S M 250 Principles of Quantity Food Production
D S M 260 Management and Analysis of Quantity Food
D S M 275 Cost Control in Institutional Food Service
ENGL 015 Rhetoric and Composition

Step 4 (36 more credits) Earn an associate degree in dietetic food systems management with an emphasis in School Food Service, and qualify to take the SFNS credentialing exam.*
D S M 195 Field Experience in Community Dietetics
D S M 204 Marketing of Child Nutrition Programs
D S M 295W Professional Staff Field Experience
HD FS selection
Sociology or psychology courses
General Education: 15 credits
Electives selected with adviser to meet graduation requirement of 60 credits

For the 2004–05 academic year, tuition per credit is $264 for D S M and NUTR courses numbered 001–299.
For other courses in the program, tuition per credit is $199 for courses numbered 001–299 and $396 for courses numbered 300–499.

Approved by the School Nutrition Association (formerly the American School Food Service Association) *with appropriate work experience

FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT:
World Campus Student Services, The Pennsylvania State University,
207 Mitchell Building, University Park PA 16802-3601
E-mail: psuwd@psu.edu • Phone: 800-252-3592 or 814-865-5403 (international) www.worldcampus.psu.edu/pub/dietsfs

an outreach program of the College of Health and Human Development,
School of Hospitality Management

This publication is available in alternative media on request. Penn State is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity, and the diversity of its workforce. Produced by Outreach Marketing and Communications UEd/OUT 03-0950bltr Copyright © 2003 The Pennsylvania State University